“ During the last week of January 2019, Brian and I took a week road trip to drive with Bill to Arizona towing his 5th wheel. We left during a huge snow storm, hit black ice, went in and out of the ditch on the expressway. We ended up staying in the 5th wheel the first night at a gas station in Lapeer. We continued on the next day where Brian carefully got us through the icy roads. Once the roads were clear, Bill drove for a bit, until we caught him taking a nap while driving! He just laughed it off and said he needed a quick nap but he was all fine now LOL! Needless to say, I drove most of the rest of the way, except for when we had to make a pitstop for bathroom breaks or food and while Brian and I slipped inside the store/restaurant, Bill was fast as lightening and snuck back in the driver's seat! This was while he was walking with a cane, too! Brian and I couldn't believe how quick he moved when he wanted to!

We stopped at a truck stop in Oklahoma and Bill purchased a coffee mug for me since it happened to be my birthday. The mug said "Officially off the Market!" So nice of him to do!

Bill (& Brian) shared story after story after story during our road trip all the while smiling and joking and laughing!

This road trip is a memory of my father-in-law and my husband that I will cherish forever!

XO!
